Classic Book Radio Corporation was formed to further literacy in rural Lowndes County, Mississippi by broadcasting classic works of literature on a previously unused FM channel.

It is our plan to use the content of texts in the public domain, recorded by volunteer readers as available on the librivox.org website. Librivox.org has thousands of audio-book texts available. The librivox.org license allows this usage (see <http://librivox.org/pages/about-librivox/>).

We plan to focus on classic works of literature from authors like Shakespeare, Dickens, Melville and Bronte.

We make no commitment to local content production, but we see the possibility of having literary commentary, discussion and readings by local authorities, experts and citizens if our station is approved.

As far as we know, this is the first attempt to use librivox.org content as the basis for radio programming.
